The United Postal Stationery Society was formed in 1945 by a merger of the Postal Card Society of America, established in 1891, and the International Postal Stationery Society, organized in 1939. Today the UPSS is the largest society devoted to the collecting of postal stationery. Whether you collect a particular country, topic, or the world, you'll benefit from membership in the UPSS, such as a significant discount on our many publications and special access to portions of our extensive website.
