Location names - Ortsnamen - Noms des lieux - Nombres de lugares

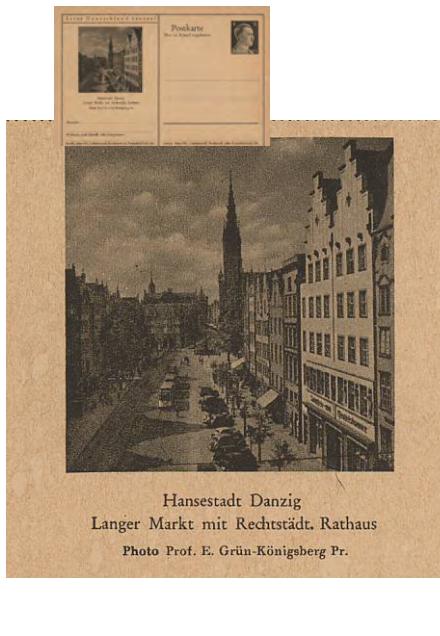

Over hundreds of years, the population was mixed, Polish and Germans people with different majorities depending on the region. Therefore, since ages, most locations exist with a German name which was mainly suppressed after WWI. These ancient German names are given in brackets. This development is shown below at the example of view cards from different periods. Many cards of places that belong to Poland today can be found in the catalogues for the German Empire and the Free City of Danzig.

Über Jahrhunderte hinweg war die Bevölkerung gemischt, Tschechen und Deutsche mit je nach Region unterschiedlicher Mehrheit. Daher gibt es seit jeher die meisten Orte mit einem deutschen Namen, der nach dem Ersten Weltkrieg größtenteils unterdrückt und nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg endgültig aufgegeben wurde. Diese altdeutschen Namen sind in Klammern angegeben. Am Beispiel von Bildpostkarten aus verschiedenen Epochen wird dieser Aufbau weiter unten dargestellt. Viele Karten von Orten, die heute Polen zugehören, finden sich in den Katalogen für das Deutsche Reich und die Freie Stadt Danzig.

Pendant des siècles la population était mixte, Tchèques et Allemands avec des majorités différentes selon les régions. Par conséquent, la plupart des lieux ont toujours eu un nom allemand, qui a été largement supprimé après la Première Guerre mondiale et a finalement été abandonné après la Seconde Guerre mondiale. Ces anciens noms allemands sont donnés entre parenthèses. Cette structure est illustrée ci-dessous à l'aide de l'exemple de cartes postales illustrées de différentes époques. De nombreuses cartes de lieux appartenant aujourd'hui à la Pologne se trouvent dans les catalogues de l'Empire allemand et de la Ville libre de Gdansk.

Durante siglos la población fue mixta, checos y alemanes con diferentes mayorías según la región. Por lo tanto, la mayoría de los lugares siempre han tenido un nombre alemán, que fue suprimido en gran medida después de la Primera Guerra Mundial y finalmente fue abandonado después de la Segunda Guerra Mundial. Estos nombres en alemán antiguo se dan entre paréntesis. Esta estructura se muestra a continuación utilizando el ejemplo de tarjetas postales de diferentes épocas. En los catálogos del Reich alemán y de la Ciudad Libre de Gdansk se pueden encontrar muchos mapas de lugares que hoy forman parte de Polonia.

Cards with images of harbour cranes – supposed to be rail bound – are not listed here.

Karten mit Abbildungen von Hafenkränen, von denen man annimmt, dass sie schienengebunden sind, sind hier nicht aufgeführt.

Des cartes représentant des grues portuaires qui seraient sur les rails, ne sont pas répertoriés ici.

Tarjetas que muestran grúas portuarias que se cree que están conectadas a ferrocarriles, no están listados aquí.

Cartes postales privées - pas des entiers postals
Tarjetas postales - no enteros postales

As printing became easier and cheaper, a lot of privately produced cards appeared which are not postal stationery. Most are used as a base for special cancellations.

Als das Drucken einfacher und günstiger wurde, erschien eine Menge von privaten Postkarten, die aber keine Ganzsachen sind. Sie werden meist als Grundlage für Sonderstempel genutzt. Im Folgenden sind drei Beispiele gezeigt.

L'impression étant devenue plus facile et moins chère, de nombreuses cartes postales privées sont apparues, mais elles ne sont pas des entiers postales. Ils servent principalement de base à des cachets de la poste spéciales. Trois exemples sont présentés ci-dessous.

A medida que la impresión se hizo más fácil y barata, aparecieron muchas postales privadas, pero no son enteros postales. Se utilizan principalmente como base para cancelaciones especiales. A continuación se muestran tres ejemplos.
